...A significantly enhanced way to experience your environmental data...

Concord, MA - June 14 2013 - EarthSoft announces today the highly anticipated release of its new EQuIS Enterprise 6 software. Referred to as a "game changer" by clients who have tested it, EQuIS Enterprise 6 is a disruptive technology that dramatically enhances the user experience; this is a giant step forward in the environmental data management industry.

The new user interface, on a commercial web dashboard platform, was developed with extensive client input. EarthSoft continues to provide industry-leading innovation; EQuIS Enterprise 6 is a revolutionary product that introduces a new paradigm for consuming environmental data. No longer is environmental information held hostage by those few with expertise to locate, decipher and unlock the data. Enterprise 6 can create custom dashboards containing useful charts, maps, and visualizations of your data, and then bring the data directly to your Inbox, exactly when you need it. With EQuIS Enterprise 6 you own the workflow – you improve efficiencies and you make better decisions. EarthSoft's EQuIS Enterprise 6 is an entirely new and greatly improved way to manage operations and experience your environmental data.

EQuIS experts will be interested in the following new features:

- Custom web dashboards containing standard or custom widgets
- Integrated Web GIS using the Esri ArcGIS JavaScript API
- Powerful security system giving everyone what they need, but nothing more
- Web services for simple, secure application integration
- Advanced auditing: know who changed what, when
- New widgets for web graphics, "traffic lights", and time-series charts

EarthSoft CEO Mitch Beard said "Enterprise 6 will engage and empower a new class of EQuIS users. With easy-to-build dashboards presenting visually meaningful data, mid-level and senior managers will be able to make better decisions with the analytical tools previously available to a few power users. We think our clients will love Enterprise 6, and recognize what a leap forward this new technology offers."

Enterprise 6 is available as an upgrade to EQuIS Enterprise 5 clients. Enterprise 6 can be licensed for use on your server, or hosted from EarthSoft's global network of servers.
